

December 20

Hey Evie!

This has got to be a short letter - can't let them see me write or mail it. Trouble's coming, girlfriend. Something's woken up, and they're playing ball. You might have been right after all. They're following me. I've sent what they're looking for to your area for safekeeping. Keep an eye out for it. They may try to do the nasty there - keep things safe. The stars will be right soon - be sure you have lots of Scooby Snacks then!

Will contact you later -
